

Girls Plan Organization, Inc.

Tel: 877-655-2322

www.girlsplan.org

“Things I Wish My Dad Would Have Told Me.” Nishaline Hines Thoughts Aired on Social Radio Network BlogTalkRadio

“Things I Wish My Dad Would Have Told Me.” tackled the impact of a lack of paternal involvement in a teen girl’s life on Thursday, October 29, 2009 at 1:00 pm est.

Phoenixville, PA—October 29, 2009 – “Things I Wish My Dad Would Have Told Me.” was the focus of BlogTalkRadio’s “Girls Plan” (<http://blogtalkradio.com/Girls-Plan>) with host Nishaline Hines on Thursday, October 29, 2009, at 1:00 p.m. Eastern. Many women grew up in a household without their father. Either they were abandoned or the Dad was physically there but not active in their lives. There are so many single mother households raising daughters without the presence of a permanent male fixture. This topic delivered words of wisdom from our guest and get our questions answered.

An archive is available at the same link and listeners can subscribe to the archives via the RSS feed located on the host page. Read more about the host and the discussion on Hines’s blog at <http://talk.girlsplan.org/blog> “Things I Wish My Dad Would Have Told Me.”

<http://blogtalkradio.com/Girls-Plan> is an interactive, live Internet talk-radio show that focuses on topics affecting teen girls through adulthood. Host Nishaline Hines explores issues and topics ranging from self-esteem, self-confidence, and whole mind and body wellness. The stream and archives are available at <http://blogtalkradio.com/Girls-Plan>. The show is hosted on BlogTalkRadio.

###

Press contact:

Call: 877-655-2322

E-Mail: info@girlsplan.org

Visit: <http://www.girlsplan.org>

Girls Plan is a non-profit organization that has helped to equip countless young women with knowledge on how to handle the complexities of womanhood, relationships, and societal norms. More information about Girls Plan can be found on our website: www.girlsplan.org

■ PRESS RELEASE